Dear Emory Parents and Families:

When it comes to Emory families, the Mayblums, Copleins, and Rapaports, all connected by family, know how to show their Emory spirit! Emory family members posed last summer to demonstrate their Emory pride. Back row: Allison Coplein (94L/MBA), Max Mayblum (16BBA), Zack Mayblum (13BBA), Jon Mayblum (84BBA), and Ian Rapaport (93L). Front row: Laura Coplein Mayblum (84C) and Adam Mayblum (87BBA). This summer's photo will most certainly include Hannah, who has been admitted to the class of 2019. We would love to see if anyone can rival the eight family members who will be in this summer's Mayblum-Coplein-Rapaport photo! If anyone has a similar photo that shows their Emory pride, please send it my way at family@emory.edu, and we will try to include it.

Emory is much like a family; we love one another, sometimes we squabble, but at the core is a community with individual differences and shared values. We may not always be perfect, but we strive to act with integrity and care. We want you to wear your Emory gear with pride, knowing that you represent an outstanding university.

As noted, families and parents are very important to us, and we appreciate your roles as shareholders in the Emory educational experience. If you have any questions, suggestions, or inquiries, please contact us at family@emory.edu.

Hail the Gold & Blue!

News Updates

This Friday, March 20, marks the official start of spring. The Emory Farmers’ Market is a great place to find fresh foods and try items from local vendors. Held every Tuesday, items range from gourmet popsicles to flatbread pizza to local fresh fruit and vegetables to vegan doughnuts. More information can be found online.

On-campus housing spring move-out information was recently sent to students. In order to help families understand the policies and procedures, the information can be found here.

For more news updates: Emory Report serves as an informative, lively, and comprehensive resource for news and events of interest to staff and faculty. Emory Report highlights accomplishments, endeavors, and aspirations that reflect the university’s identity and strategic vision. If you would like to receive the Emory Report, you can opt in online.

Sports Roundup

As winter sports are winding down, spring sports are starting up! Our Swimming and Diving Teams compete in the NCAA Division III Championships March 18-21 in Shenandoah, Texas. Emory hosted the first round of the Division III Men's Basketball tournament March 5-6, where our Emory Eagles knocked off Spalding and Whitworth to advance to the Sweet Sixteen. Playing University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point, Emory was eliminated from the tournament with a 73-53 loss. This was the third consecutive year of postseason play for the Eagles.

Student Engagement

Dooley's Week is our annual spirit week sponsored by the Student Programming Council (SPC). This year's events will be held March 23-28. Highlights of the week include a comedian, band party, and costume ball. Each student hopes that Dooley will continue the tradition of coming to select classes and canceling the class for the day.

Additional Activities and Programs

The Office of International Student Life has a weekly newsletter that offers information on activities, programs, and resources. Opt in to receive the newsletter.

Don't forget about the programs and activities that are offered Friday and Saturday evenings and open to all students through Late Night @ Emory.

There is also a weekly newsletter, which is distributed each Thursday during the semester. Opt in to receive the newsletter. Information about other Campus Life departments that offer outstanding resources can be found on the Campus Life website.

Healthy Campus/Flourish Emory

Food is, of course, a major part of the collegiate experience. Food service administrators constantly seek input from Emory students regarding their likes and dislikes through comment cards and the Food Advisory Committee at Emory (FACE). FACE members recommend and evaluate food offerings and help select new menu options. Vitamin Water is now being served in the Dobbs University Center (DUC) as a result of FACE input.

The Office of Health Promotion, one of the Emory University Student Health and Counseling Services departments, offers a number of resources for students to help them learn about and practice healthy behaviors. Access these resources online.

Emory University Student Health Services (EUSHS) is very proud to be fully accredited by the Accreditation Association for Ambulatory Health Care, Inc. (AAAHC). The doctors and nurses at EUSHS specialize in helping students maintain good health. For those times when students need medical assistance, please visit the EUSHS website.
International Careers Networking Night provides an opportunity for students to meet with alumni who work in positions that involve international careers or positions that have international responsibilities. The event is Wednesday, April 1 from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. at the Miller-Ward Alumni House.

Emory alumni work in a variety of careers. Stephen Chen (95 C, 00L) was the keynote speaker at last month's Founders' Day dinner. Stephen (pictured right) serves as the Supervisory Attorney in the U.S. Department of Education's Office of Civil Rights.

Additional information about Career Center services can be found on the Career Center website. The current Career Center program guide can also be accessed online.

In addition to the university Career Center, the Goizueta Business School and the Nell Hodgson Woodruff School of Nursing also have career services to serve Emory students.
