Dear Families:

Students are ready for spring with the last half of the semester requiring bursts of energy. While our students are busy finishing papers and studying for exams, they may also struggle with academic and/or personal difficulties. Please know that there are multiple ways we support students during challenging times. The College of Arts and Sciences provides academic advising and can be reached at: http://college.emory.edu/oue/advising/. The Office of Student Success Programs and Services helps students who need personal assistance and guidance at:
Please advise your student that all students have challenges. That is a normal part of being in college. However, Emory University believes in them and admitted them so they will flourish and succeed. Resources are only a phone call or a click away.

Please remember, if you have any questions, suggestions, or inquiries, please email: family@emory.edu

Hail the Gold & Blue!

Bridget Guernsey Riordan, Ph.D.
Assistant Vice President of Campus Life
Alumni Relations, Parent & Family Programs
