Dear Emory Families:

Coming together in a time of tragedy is one of the ways the Emory community works to heal and support one another. Places of worship are meant to be sacred, peaceful, and safe. So when the recent tragedy occurred in Pittsburgh, just as it had in Charleston, SC, Galveston, Texas, and other cities, it became a terrifying reminder of what hate and violence can do. At Emory we strive every day to help our students learn, understand, and appreciate people of all faiths and beliefs. We believe it is our community responsibility to respect one another and value our differences. We hope to graduate students who value different belief systems and promote freedom of speech and expression in a civilized community. While we mourn our losses, we remain hopeful that love, understanding, and respect will prevail for the future.
Please know if you have any questions, suggestions, or inquiries, you can email: family@emory.edu for assistance.

Hail the Gold & Blue!

NEWS UPDATES

Our veterans are honored each year around Veterans’ Day with a program and flag ceremony on the Quad. Last year’s ceremony united the Emory community.

The Emory community came together to mourn the victims of the shooting at the Tree of Life Synagogue in Pittsburgh.
If your student is unable to leave campus for Thanksgiving, Thanksgiving dinner will be available to all residential students on Thursday, November 22 from 1:00 p.m. to 3:00 p.m. in the DUCling.

HEALTH AND RECREATION

Club sports are a great way to enjoy a favorite sport and experience competitive play. From rugby to crew to ultimate there are a multitude of opportunities.
Often problems can be resolved with the proper university resources. Our Ombudsperson is a neutral person who can help students determine how to resolve a dispute.

The Office of Health Promotion offers resources for students to learn about and practice healthy behaviors. Stress can have a negative impact on our health. Also, check out Student Health 101 magazine - another valuable resource for managing a healthy lifestyle.

STUDENT ENGAGEMENT

The nationally-ranked Barkley Forum Debate Team not only produces outstanding debaters, but offers opportunities for volunteers. The high school debate tournament held each February and summer camps expose hundreds of young people to the power of debate.

The Office of International Student Life offers valuable resources and programs. Check out their website for more information.

Information about other Campus Life departments that offer outstanding resources can be found here.
